Yes, our own Jan & Deane

Our featured speaker for the evening was Jan Colbrese, Deputy Director of External Affairs of the new Nordic Museum. She talked about the Nordic Legacy in Washington State, the Nordic Heritage Museum from 1980-2017, and the new location in the heart of Seattle's historic Scandinavian center. May 5th was the Grand Opening with a great representation of dignitaries and royalty from the Nordic countries. In the first 4 months in the new location, 65,000 visitors have come to the museum which is roughly the same as all of 2017, over 80% of those, are non-members. Membership has increased by 156% over the last 2 years. Jan also talked about the power of partnerships, the fantastic visiting exhibitions, and the donors. Most importantly if it weren't for the volunteers for these nearly 40 years, the museum would not exist.

Minutes were approved. (Minutes submitted by Debbi Larson of Skagit Bank)
